VESSELS HELD IN RESERVE MUNYON'S

Several to Go Out of Commission Before Long.

PLAN SECRETARY LONG'S

Katabdin to Be Followed by the Co lumbia, Minnesota and Cincinnati. They Are Not to Be Put in Ord: pary, However, But Kept Partly Manned-A Matter of Economy.

Secretary Long intends to adopt a more economical program in connection with the fleet. In the Secretary's judgment there are now too many vessels in commission He will gradually reduce the number in service. The vessels to go out of commission will not be put in ordinary, however. They are to be kept partly manned, and will ride at anchor in some body of fresh water yet to be decided upon.

The Secretary said that the new program did not contain any sensational features, but was tossed upon what appeared to him to be good, practical business reasons. He added that the country was at peace, and that there was no likelihood of a big flect being needed for active service in the mmediate future. Should an exigency arise the vessels to be put out of service could empliy made ready for cruising, as it was not proposed to dismantle them in any sense. Only a material reduction in the strength of their crews was to be made. They are to be known as reserve ships. and will be held in a condition for a call upon short notice.

The ordering of the Katahdin out of compission a few daysago was the preliminary step in the program. The ram is a vessel of the special class. In time of war she may prove useful, but she is of no value as a ruiser. She has proved her qualities, such as they are, and Secretary Long has decided that it would be extravagance longer to keep her flag flying. The Secretary said this afternoon that the next yessel to go on the reserve list would be the Columbia, the big, swift cruiser now attached to the home fleet, which some time ago made the fasttrip from Southamptonto New York. The Columbia has been in commission about three years, and has fully demonstrated her efficiency as a cruiser of the commerce-destroyer type. She is a great coal consumer, and is otherwise expensive to meintain. A smaller, more economical stap would better meet re-quirements. Hence Secretary Long has decided to pdt her in reserve. He will issue directions to this effect shortly after the Grant memorial exercises on the 27th of this month.

Not long after the Columbia orders are Not long after the common ofters are promulgated instructions will be given to put the fastest of American cruisers, the Minneapolis, in reserve. This steel-clad greyhound is now on the European Recently she has been cruising in Turkish waters, looking out for Ameri eaninterests. She is a huge ship, and even more expensive to keep in active service than the Columbia. Naval officers say that it has never been the intention to have the two vessels constantly in commission because of their expensiveness. The Raleigh, of the home squadron, will go to the European squadron as the relief of the Minneapolis. As another vessel of that squadron, the Cincinnati, has been ordered me, Admiral Selfridge's command will he reduced to three ships, the San Fran-cisco, the Raleigh and the Bancroft.

Although Secretary Long has reached no formal decision as to the monitors, the stillities are that at least (wo of these low freeboard vessels, the Amphitrite and be Terror, now attache Itathe home equadron, will soon join the reserve fleet. The former has been in commussion for some time, and, for her class, has proved to be an efficient vessel. The Terror, her sister, was commissioned only recently. The Amphitrite will be put on the reserve list Soon afterward the Terror will Naval officers say that for pur poses of instruction, only one m be kept in commission. They think that, the largest and most comfortable of the onitors, should be kept on active duty

A number of questions relating to the mon iter class are yet to be decided by Sec-retary Long. The Secretary said today that it was not his purpose to make any wholesale reduction in the commissioned fleet. To keep up the fleet at its present strength did not seem advisable. It was equally unadvisable, the Secretary said, to cripple any of the squadrons, and this would not, of course, be done. Be mentioned one practical point to which he has given attention This is that the enlisted force of the Navy is limited, and that if all vessels now flying flags are maintained in active service it would be impossible to put in commission new ships nearing readiness for cruising The big, speedy battleship Iowa Is almost

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure for It.

Catarrh of the slomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloading sensation after cating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the iseart and lungs and difficult breathing; headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling. There is often a foul taste in the mouth, conted tongue, and if the interior of the stemach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly should be commissioned and sent to sex The subject of men enters largely into Secretary Long's plans. It is not proposed to ask Congress to increase the naval appropriations under this head. It is there fore necessary to put vessels out of com mission to get crews for newer shins. Be sides the battleships there are nearly ready for service the three guaboats, the Wilmington, the Nashville, and the Helena, also several torpedo boats.

An interesting question which Secretary Long is considering is where to lay up the ships to be put out of commission. Various places have been considered, including the League Island navy yard, the naval station at New London, a site on the Hudson River. and a basin at Newport News. It is impor tant that fresh water be available, so that the had effect of salt water on steel bottom be avoided. League Island is rather in land, and is now most favored. There i an appropriation under which the channel at the navy yard can be deepened, and this fact may decide the Secretary to make this station the rendezvous for the fleet.

Mrs A. Inveen, residing at 720 Henry doctored for it bearly the whole of this time, using various remedies recommended by friends, and was treated by the physicians, but received no relief. Color Line Drawn Taut at the Naval Academy-Ostracised Alike by Commander and Middy-Baker Advises Handy to Avoid the Hugged Road-Race Enmity Bitter as Ever

The experience of the only colored man who ever attended the Navat Academy at Annapolis leads him to believe that this new applicant, D. J. Bundy, appointed by Representative Shattuc, of Ohio, would much better not make the attempt. Mr. Henry E. Baker, a colored man of this city, a lawyer and real estate broker, and one o the foremost and most intelligent men of his race in Washington, was at Annapolis almost two years, from 1875 to 1877. He was appointed to the academy after passing a competitive examination by Hen G. Wiley Wells, a white Congressman of Mississippi. Before the second year of his course was out his postion had become so unbearable that he was forced to leave.

The story as Mr. Baker tells it is a most interesting one. From the very day he entered the institution, he says, the whole spirit and sentiment both among the officers and the cadets was against him almost to a malignant degree. He was subjected to insults every day of his tife there of a most galling and abomi nable description. He was wholly ostracised by the cadets and was never spoken to by them during all his term at the academy. More than this, be was teld after he left by a cadet there at the same time that there was a determination, both among the cadets and the officers of the institution, that he should never gradu ate. The cadets informed the authorities of every slightest misdemeanor of his and they all went down as demerits against his standing. The officers systematically marked him down in his studies. He was at first determined to stick the fight out. Things got worse and worse, however, and he nearly caused a rebellion in the school. The students refused to take their lessons with him. One young cadet refused to fence with him on a certain coasion and was dismissed. He was afterward admitted again, however. Other mies refused to take duncing lesson in the class with him. At one time Mr. Baker was made the head of one of the sections formed for drill together, on acount of his standing in his class. In this esition he had to call the roll and perform other like duties. A certain cadet, a son of a prominent naval officer, refused to answer to the roll call when Baker came to his name. There was an impieuse dis The student consulted with his father, and was about to resign, as he refused to make an apology to Baker. He was finally wed to apologize to the superinte Abother man bent young Baker terribly on the head with a brick, and was dismissed. When Baker left this man was reinstated at the academy. This codet was the worst of the enemies that Boker had at the ademy. Curiously enough he had been sent to the institution by a colored Congressman from Alabamia.

The trouble which comminated in the re tirement of Mr. Baker from the field was a most aggravated case of persecution, in which, after appealing in vain to the an thorities for support, he struck a cadet. The course pursued afterward fully justifiell young Baker Several of the students falsified their stories of the affair, laying all the blame on Baker, and he was dismissed from the academy. Secretary of the Navy Robeson immediately reinstated him, but Baker had had enough, and resigned

Mr. Byker takes a strong interest in women Bundy, but says that it will be foolbardy and profitless for him to attempt to take a course at the academy, and that it will never be done successfully until three or for colored boys go together. It is not so much the physical persecution that is un-

When Baker left Annapolis he came to Washington and was graduated at Howard University. Mr. Baker has met a great many of his classmates of Annapolis since he left that institution, and finds the old spirit of antagonism entirely departed. With him in the Patent Office are two or three of his classmates, and over a dozen ex-naval officers.

Eaker's is the only case of a colored man attending the academy on record. There is a story that one man very light in color did go through the academy and graduate about 1880 without disclosing his race He resigned, then, however, and did not

There have been one or two colored men minsted for cadetships at the Naval Academy, but none of them has ever gone o far as an entrance into the classes. Last September two men passed examinations in their districts and were appointed to the academy, but were frightened off by threatening letters and pever reported to gressman from the South appointed a man, out he was rejected on the entrance examinations.

It is reported at Annapolis that there is a great commotion over the prospect of appearance of young Bundy at the academy. The cadets are forming plans to receive him most warmly and to make it too hot for him to remain. He will be hazed unmercifully and ostracised in much the same manner that Baker was twinty years ago. The officers at the academy are said to have made the statement that he will be treated fairly and receive as good a At the Navy Department here the officers are reticent and in all that they say are most loyal to the Navy and observant of naval etiquette after the manner of naval officers, and will hardly recognize that here would be any difficulty for Bundy if he should attend the academy. One officer, who would not allow his name to be men ioned, expressed the opinion privately, how ever, that whether it were right or not the adition of things which young Baker found unquestionably still a fact, and that mdy will have as bard a struggle now,

Soon after the examination Mr. Shattuc, the Congressman who was making the appointment, sent a letter to a friend in Cincinnati, stating that as none of the applicants had passed a satisfactory examination, another would be ordered. Bundy's friends protested against this. Mr. Shattuc explained that he had been informed by one of the members of the examining board that none of the ap plicants had passed. Mr. Shattuc ascer tained that this was not so that Bundy had passed well, and he has made the appointno communications from the students at Annapolis on the subject, but that several Congressmen have told him that it is an unwritten law not to allow a colored boy at Annapolis; that if he persisted it would break up the school; that the other students would resign. Mr. Shattuc is reported men, "Let them resign and be damned I am going to see that he goes to Annepolis and receives fair treatment if it is in my power to do so." Mr. Bundy is said be a very handsome young fellow. He is the eldest son of the Rev. Charles Bundy, the presiding elder of the African M. E. Church of Cincinnati. He is eighteen years old, and is at present attending the Woodward Righ School at Cincinnati.

The Mount Pleasant Field Band is going to New York. The boys held a meeting last night and decided to go in company with the Washington Light Infantry. two organizations will leave here Sunday the 25th instant over the Royal Blue Line and reach New York at 6:20 p.m. The boys will travel in their regulation fatigue uniforms, carrying their fulldress zouave outfits in knapsacks. Quarters have been engaged at the Putram Bouse, corner of Twenty-sixth street and Fourth avenue, opposite Madison Square Garden Monday the hove will see the city a Tuesday take part in the big parade, march-

Washington troops that are going over to take part in the dedicatory exercises. The band has paraded in nearly all the large cities in the eastern section of the country, except New York. They are considerably elated over the prospect of adding the big metropolis to their list and will do their best to make a favorable impression while in that city.

A set of rules and regulations were adopted for the good conduct and discipline of the corps while away and nothing will be left undone to make the trip a success. In two months the corps will be four years old and during that time the band has traveled nearly ten thousand miles.

Art and Politics His Specialty. "I am a newspaper man," said Mark Smith to Judge Kimballthis morning, when asked if he had anything to say to the charge of vagrancy against him. "I came here from the South," he continued, "and am on my way to New York. I've been in hard luck, your honor, and can get no work. My specialty is art music and politics, and if I can get to New York I'll be all right."

Judge Kimball questioned Smith closely, and on his assertion that he was sure of employment his personal bonds were taken.

Potomac Conclave's Smoker. Potomac Conclave, No. 470, Independent Order of Heptasophs, gave their first smoker at Oppenheimer's Hall, on Ninta street, last night. Among those who par-ticipated in the program of entertainment were S. Platt, Harry Wolf, M. E. Kahn, J. H. Goodman, A. Gradwohi, Prof. Keller, Sol. Herzog, Frank Robestock, Phil. Friedlander and Joseph Baum. The Montrose Mandolin and Guitar Club rendered a number of scientions. At the conclusion of the program an claborate collation was served.

Frederick M. Darden, a well-dressed charged with being an habitual drunkard Darden's condition was pittful. When he took the stand to tell his story he trembled so that he could not stand. Darden lives at No. 1219 I street, and his brother in-law, Frank D. Berry, testified that he was weak mentally and frresponsible Darden was in no condition to be in court. and sent him down for treatment.

Tennille, the go-ahead clothier of No. 709 Seventh street, is making business hum in his establishment. He is "suiting" and "top coating" hundreds of swell dressers from his handsome spring stock of tailor-made garments, and doing it at fabulously low prices, too. Mr. Tennille's announcement in today's Times is a corker, and well worth reading, as there are some unusually attractive offerings for investors in Easter suits for people who want their dellars to go a long way. Read Tennille's "ad."
